Things to Do

FLY FISHING

The Yakima River is a premier fly-fishing destination, known for rainbow and cutthroat trout. Check local licensing requirements at Cle Elum Fly Fishing Company, which also offers guided trips and gear rentals. Yakima river is catch and release only with bait less, barbless hooks.

HIKING/MOUNTAIN BIKING

Explore the scenic trails that wind through the forests, mountains, and valleys around Cle Elum. Whether you're looking for a gentle walk or a challenging mountain bike ride, there are trails to suit every skill level. Popular routes like the Coal Mines Trail offer beautiful scenery and glimpses of the area's history, while Peoh Point provides panoramic views of the valley below.

RIVER FLOATING

On warm days, relax by floating down the Yakima River. Grab an inner tube or a raft and enjoy a leisurely drift through the peaceful surroundings. This family-friendly activity is a fun way to cool off and take in the stunning natural scenery. For safety, always wear life jackets and bring something to paddle with.

SNOWMOBILING

In the winter, Cle Elum transforms into a snowmobiling paradise with hundreds of miles of groomed trails. Perfect for both beginners and experienced riders, these trails offer thrilling rides through snow-covered forests and open mountain views. Local rentals and guided tours make it easy to hit the trails.

WINE TASTING

Explore the wine-tasting experiences available around Cle Elum and nearby Yakima Valley, home to some of Washington's best vineyards. Spend an afternoon sampling local wines and learning about the unique flavors of this region.

SKIING/SLEDDING/SNOWSHOE

When winter snow blankets the region, head to nearby Snoqualmie Pass for downhill skiing, snowboarding, and sledding. For those looking to explore the backcountry, there are also ample opportunities for snowshoeing and cross-country skiing.

Places to See

ROSLYN

A charming historic town just minutes away, Roslyn offers unique shops, cozy eateries, and landmarks from its coal-mining past, along with scenic hiking trails nearby.
